

Justin Hamilton

Writer and Stand-Up Comedian

After twenty-plus years in the industry, Justin Hamilton has carved out an incredibly successful career as a stand-up comedian and as a writer and director.

Justin started his career back in 1994 as part of the musical comedy duo “The Bunta Boys”, who over their five year career toured Australia and supported Alexei Sayle, The Doug Anthony All-Stars, Judith Lucy, Sue Anne Post and the Clowns of Decadence.

Over the course of the last 15 years, Justin has won awards for his solo stand up comedy shows including the Director’s Award at the Melbourne Comedy Festival for his show “Three Colours Hammo” (which also won the Advertiser best show at the Adelaide Fringe). In 2009 he wrote the play “Goodbye Ruby Tuesday” which starred actor Hannah Norris, with Justin in a supporting role. His one-man play “The Goodbye Guy” (2012) was met with unanimous praise and good reviews.

Justin is also the producer, curator and host of comedy variety show The Shelf. Alongside his friend the fabulous Adam Richard, they have hosted some of the best comedians from Australia and abroad including Wil Anderson, Rove McManus, Tony Martin, Glenn Robbins, Celia Pacquola, Cal Wilson, Dave Hughes and Andy Zaltzman.

In 2013 Justin starred in and was a co-producer on the Comedy Channel TV show “Stand Ups Sit Down”, a show that was inspired and spun out of his incredibly successful podcast, “Can You Take This Photo Please?” The podcast is listened to all over the world and the one-off special for the Comedy Channel saw Justin host with guests Wil Anderson and Rove McManus. Justin has interviewed Simon Pegg, Marc Maron, Judith Lucy, Tony Martin and US comedian Dave Anthony, and also worked on a movie podcast with Peter Helliar entitled, “Helliar and Hammo Dig Flicks!” where they have interviewed Steve Carrell, Joel Edgerton, Morgan Spurlock, Stephen Curry and “Red Dog” director Kriv Stenders.

Justin has most recently taken on a creative role at Southern Cross Austereo, working behind the scenes as a key writer for Rove’s 2DayFM breakfast show Rove & Sam. For the past eight years he has also been a TV and movie reviewer for Perth’s number one rated Mix FM, and you can hear him appear regularly as a guest on Merrick Watts Triple M Drive show in Sydney. In 2017, Justin was the head writer and regularly appeared on Whovians, a panel show hosted by Rove that dissected and discussed the latest episodes of cult BBC show Doctor Who.

Justin still finds the time to be one of Australia’s premier stand up comedians. In 2016 he performed two brand new shows Hoot and Justin Hamilton – LIVE!, as well as performing at Just For Laughs Sydney. Justin’s latest show in 2017 ‘Bunta Boy’ was a celebration and reflection on the beginning of his comedy career, which was launched as part of a duo bearing the same name.

In 2011, The Arts Monthly announced that Justin was the Comedian of the Decade. To that end, Tim Ferguson wrote: "Hamilton's shows eschew traditional structures and standard subject matter. His work consistently challenges his audiences, asking important questions about history, truth, death and identity. It reveals a razor-sharp intellect and fearless questing heart. His humour is dangerous, offering perspectives that can be frightening in scope and intent."

"Hamilton resists the easy laugh lines that are the staple of stand-up and that are instantly forgotten. Instead, the show is memorably, blisteringly funny, and poignant at times."

The Australian, Penny Durham

"★★★★★ An unforgettable performance... his jokes are intelligent, witty and very entertaining. You should not miss this. Absolute stand out."

Adelaide Advertiser

"It's an intelligent, crafted work from a man whose deft use of stage and microphone create a multi-layered experience with an array of colourful characters"

The Herald Sun

"A fluent and unique delivery coupled with delicate material makes this a special hour"
